General Crude Wins Softball Championship

General Crude Oilers fought their way to the top of the heap and established themselves in no uncertain terms as 1947 champions of the Hamlin Softball League at the City Park Saturday night. In a final game of the championship Saturday night, they walloped the Wise Chapel team 6 to 2, to make it four games out of six. Friday night Wise Chapel had spanked the Oilers 5 to 1 and Thursday night the Oilers goose-egged the Wise Chapel club 3 to 0.

In the first three games of the week, General Crude won 3 to 0 on Monday night and bowed to Wise Chapel 3 to 1 Tuesday night, and humiliated Wise Chapel Wednesday night 20 to 1.

Sylvester won four of five consolation games to take the consolation finals, defeating VFW 18 to 9 in the final game Friday night.

The Saturday night game marked the close of the summer softball season, and league officials termed it a very successful one, and are looking forward to an even better season next year.

Area Swelters in Temperatures of 104-106 Degrees

Hamlin area residents have roasted burned and sweltered under the intense heat being furnished by Old Sol for the past four or five days. There was no rain in sight Wednesday morning, but slight breezes promised some relief.

Readings at the Santa Fe station, which are considered very reliable, recorded 104 degrees Sunday afternoon and Monday and Tuesday topped this to reach 106 degrees for both days. Abilene reported 105 on Tuesday and Wichita Falls 107 for the hot spot of Texas. Freak event of the day's weather news was a hail and windstorm at Mineola.

Many old-time residents were practically unanimous in their belief that it was the hottest weather ever recorded locally, one long-time resident telling a Herald reporter that he had never seen it as hot in 43 years of his residence in Hamlin.

Most people have expected September to bring relief from the heat wave, but instead have witnessed new heat records for summer as well as for the month of September.

Cotton Picking Rush Expected to Start Next Week

Hamlin area farmers report that cotton is opening rapidly and that "boll snatching" will start in earnest by next week. The Herald learned Wednesday morning that up to-date 30 bales had been ginned in the two local gins. The Producers Gin the Hamlin Farmers Cooperative reported a total of eight bales and Gin had turned out 22 bales. No reports could be received from other area gins.

Most observers say that cotton has made all that it will ever make and that rain now probably wouldn't help the situation. Several farmers report they believe the crop will be considerably better than last season.

Rains now, however, would certainly be of benefit to wheat farmers, it was pointed out. Only .19 of an inch, plus a small trace, has been reported in Hamlin since June 18. Pastures and ranch lands are badly in need of rain throughout this section of West Texas.

Breckenridge Man Injured in Wreck West of Hamlin

A Breckenridge man, whose name could not be learned locally, sustained a broken arm and cuts about his body in an accident at Hitson, west of Hamlin, about 10:30 a. m. Sunday morning. His young lady companion, Bernice Trammell of Breckenridge, was not injured seriously. The car, which belonged to her father, was demolished almost beyond repair and was brought to the Carmichael Tractor Company.

The couple was said to be en route to Rotan at the time of the accident. It was reported that a car driven by John Holland, who lives northwest of Hitson, pulled out on the highway and the Trammell car failed to clear it and hit Holland's car on the front, damaging it slightly. The large car aparently went out of control, skidded sideways and turned over three times before coming to a stop in a ditch about 100 yards from the point of the crash. Holland was unhurt .

J. S. Bellew Retires From Railroad Work

D. L. Adair Named Agent At Katy Depot

J. S. Bellew, veteran of 41 years of railroading, has retired from service as agent at the Katy Depot. He has been agent here for the past 21 years, coming here from Dale.

Mr. Ballew's railroad career began June 1, 1906 when he got a job as helper at the depot in Stamford. He worked there for five years and became cashier. He then was transferred to the southwest district and to Dale during the oil boom.

His work has proved interesting, he says, but declines to make much comment on his experiences.

Mr. and Mrs. Bellew have two children, Mrs. Heflin Miller, of Camp Hood and Lowell Keith Ballew, who lives in Temple. They plan to continue to live here at the family home on North Central Avenue.

Dewey Lee Adair has been named agent to take Mr. Ballew's place. He comes to Hamlin from Carbon, where he has been for the past 10 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Adair have two children, Miss Elvenor Adair, 14 years old, and Charles Adair, 18. Charles will enter Cisco Junior College this month. They bought the home belonging to the McCowns on Ninth Street and have already moved here. They are Baptists.

Mrs. Adair is quite capable, having operated the business at the Carbon depot for the past four years, while her husband was doing special work traveling for the Katy in the Waco, Houston, San Antonio areas.

Mr. Adair is a native of Quitman, Wood County, in East Texas.

The Hamlin Schools will only operate one of its Rural Elementary Schools. Two grades, the first and the second will be taught at the Celotex School.

Students who attended a school outside Hamlin system of schools last year are requested to write to their school last attended for a transcript of their credits to be mailed to the principal. This will greatly aid in properly enrolling such students.

City Starts Daily Trash Collection Downtown Section

Daily collections of trash was started in the downtown business section of town this week by the City of Hamlin, it was announced Monday by Mayor Holly Toler. Another truck and additional help has been added to make this service possible. Pickups are made daily in the fire zone only—the section covering the two blocks on each side of Central Avenue (the main street) between Stamford-Rotan highway and the Santa Fe Railway.,

The move was made in an effort not only to keep the downtown section cleaner but also to eliminate the fire hazard created by business houses burning their own trash. The City Council and Fire Marshall F. M. Crow ask that business firms refrain from burning trash in this area at any time as it will be picked up daily. They are also asking that weeds be kept cut down and stacked in the alleys for pickup by the city crew.

Those not having containers in which to place trash and paper are asked to secure them or at least put their trash in big boxes and not let it blow around the alleys.

Cooperation of everyone in the area concerned will help the town a great deal, Toler said.

Farm Products Close Steady to Some Higher at Most Southwestern Markets

Mose southwest farm products gained strength late last week and closed steady to some higher, according to a report received by The Herald from the Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture.

All cattle classes advanced 50 cents to $1 per hundred pounds at most southwest markets last week. Choice steers at Denver reached to $32.50, a new all-time high, and the bulk of good fed kinds brought $27 to $30. Wichita paid $26 to $30 for good and choice club yearlings. Good fed steers and yearlings sold at $26.50 to $27 at Oklahoma City, $23 to $24.50 at Fort Worth. Common and medium grades turned at $17.50 to $22.50 at San Antonio, and $15 to 21 at Houston.

Late-week gains largely made up for early losses at southwest hog markets. Closing top was $26.75 at San Antonio; $27.75 at Fort Worth; $28.25 at Oklahoma City; $28 at Wichita; and $29.50 at Denver. Sows and pigs sold up to $24 and 25.

Eggs and poultry sold generally at firm prices last week, and top quality eggs strengthened at some markets. Best white eggs brought 50 to 55 cents per dozen at most places, best mixed 45 to 50 and medium grades 40 to 45. New Orleans also brought heavy hens at 29 to 32 cents per pound, and spring chickens at 39.

Rains in the corn belt checked deterioration of the crop and weakened corn prices; but other grains sold strong. Wheat, oats, barley and grain sorghums each advanced five to eight cents on southwest cash markets. Wheat futures reached to new high levels, and oats rose to a record high price at Chicago and Kansas City.

Spot cotton prices declined $3 to $7.50 at southwest markets late last week. Demand continued good for the better grades but offerings were light. Widespread rains damaged open cotton and delayed picking, but benefited young growing cotton.

Another indictment ws returned against A. B. Standifer, negro, who was charged with forgery. It was alleged that he had forged the name of A. J. Swenson, of Stamford.

New Buildings Take Shape Fast, Others Near End

Walls are going up on the three-unit Carmichael Brothers building Stewart Furniture Company and Wade Implement Company and the building is rapidly taking shape under the direction of Ward Harris, contractor. The building, to be of hollow tile and stucco construction, will be 75 feet long and divided into three seperate store buildings 25 feet wide. They are being built for rent.

The new building for Wade Implement Company, being constructed by Shelburne & Son, is going up on the Stamford highway. Also on the same street, the offices and the service entrances have been completed at the Carl Murrell Chevrolet Company and he expects to be able to open his service department soon. They plan to start construction of the front showroom soon, too.

The Dillingham Building, housing the Banner Creameries ice plant, the City offices and The Style Mart, a new firm, is very near completion. The white stuccoed building with glass brick and black marble-trim is one of the city's most striking buildings and will certainly enchange the appearance of the business district.

Work is at a stand still at the Hamlin Memorial Hospital pending arrival of certain materials needed inside. Hamlin people are anxiously awaiting final completion of this building and the acquisition of the staff members.

Typing fee—$4.50 per semester charged as a rental on machines of all students who take typing.

Science fee—A fee of $1 per year is charged of those students taking chemistry and biology.

The cafeteria at the high school will begin operation on Thursday, September 11. Efforts are being made to have all equipment installed at the elementary building in order to begin meal service by Monday, September 15.

Due to the increase in the price of food and services in the lunch and also the fact that the government lunch room aid has been reduced from nine cents to a mixiimum of six cents an increase in the price of meals must be made. Therefore, a charge of 25 cents will be made in the grade school and 30 cents in the high school. This will be the total charge for a complete meal including dessert and milk.

The cafeterias are operated solely for the health and convenience of the students and are not profit making, but must be self supporting. If a reduction can be made at any time during the year, the reduction will be made, so stated Huchingson. The cafeteria closed out the year of operation last year with a balance of $4.74.

One new bus will be added bringing the total of buses in operation to eight. The Wise Chapel, Carlton and Neinda districts that have been served by two buses will be served by three buses. Thus effecting a shortening of the two former routes. Other routes will optrate along similar routes to those of last year. Students are advised to be ready early and watch for the buses for the first day or two until the routes and time schedule have settled into a definite route. Buses will be operated along the designated county roads and will make every reasonable effort to render service to the convience of the greatest number of students. Buses should not be expected to make side trips for individual students where those students live within a mile of the designated route.

Electric Motor in Refrigertor Needs To Rest One-Third

Each of the estimated 600 mechanical refrigerators in operation over the county needs a rest, too, and should not run more than eight hours out of 24, Miss Loretta Allen, county home demonstration agent, advises.

If the motor of a mechanical refrigerator runs more than one-third of the time the temperature may be set too low, or the refrigerator door may not close tightly so that warm air may be leaking into the cabinet.

Miss Allen declares 40 degrees Fahrenheit is normal except for the freezing cabinet. The only time the temperature needs to be set below this is when desserts or other foods are being frozen. After this quick-freezing, the temperature control should be returned to normal to keep the motor from overworking.

Test for leaks by closing the door on a piece of ordinary wrapping paper about the size and thickness of a dollar bill is handy. If the paper pulls out easily the gasket is not tight enough to keep warm air from passing into the refrigerator, Miss Allen states.

The county home demonstration agent points out that paper pulling out easily may be because the rubber in the door gasket has become hard and brittle. Or it may be the fault of the door. Try tightening hinges or latch to make the door to fit more snugly. Test again with the paper. If the door still is not tight, get a new gasket.

Should the temperature be normal and the mechanical refrigerator door does not leak, but the refrigerator still runs too much, call in a service man.

BOYCE HOUSE "Gives You Texas"

When I was a little boy, I visited Hot Springs, Arkansas, with my parents and my most vivid recollection was a visit to Happy Hollow. As the name suggests, it was wooded spot at the foot of mountains and there were burros that a boy could ride. In Happy Hollow, we chanced to meet a lady and her little son from our home town; he was my chum. He and I took a ride on burros an had our picture taken together.

Not long after that Stewart was drowned and his mother asked my nother for the picture, and of course the request was granted.

Recently while in Hot Springs I asked, not very hopefully, if Happy Hollow was still there—and was surprised when told that after more than 40 years, it still was. So Col. Tom Boles, superintendant of the Hot Springs National Park, drove by there—and the memories come thronging back. The spot was little changed except there were ponies now and a surrey for hire, "with a fringe on top."

Col. Boles for years was in charge of Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico and there he met many Texans, so he is always especially glad to meet folks from this state. In every crowd that went through the cavern, there were always more from Texas than any other state and so when he called the roll of states, giving the number of visitors from each one, he would skip Texas on purpose and call it last.

The colonel took us—my wife, her mother and me—for a daylight drive up the winding roads that climb the two big mountains overlooking Hot Springs—a scenic experience. We also took the same drive but at night with Carl Crow, business man, and as you looked down on the lofty towers of the Arlington far below and the innumerable lights of many colors, blinking and twinkling like stars, and then looked up at the real stars while the wind whispered thru the pines and their aromatic odor drifted to your nostrils—brother, that's something to remember!

The vowel "e" is used most in the English language.

Hunters Urged to Use Care Shooting At 'Phone Lines

With 2,500 telephone wires shot out of commission last year, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company this week urged hunters of the Hamlin area to use care in shooting at or near its pole lines in the coming hunting season.

About one-third of all cases of trouble on open wire long distance telephone lines last year was traced to gunshot damage, R. B. Peterson, telephone company manager, said.

"Even good shots miss occasionally," Peterson said, "and a shot at a bird on a telephone line, or flying in front of it, may cut a wire and interrupt telephone service between towns until we can get men out to the scene to repair it. Some important messages could be delayed.

Admitting that it might take a lot of will power to pass up a "fat" shot Peterson said, "care and thoughtfulness on the part of hunters now will go a long way toward protecting the community's vital telephone service."

Uncle Sam Says

"What's in it for me?" Any time you buy something or invest money in something you should ask this question and get a gilt-edge answer. Supposing a U. S. Savings Bond could talk—it would say: "Here's what's in it for you. When you exchange your money for me you get for yourself these things: future security, safety of your investment, profit ($4 for $3 in 10 years), the means to take advantage of opportunities, a nestegg to handle any emergencies." U. S. Treasury Department

Chicken of Tomorrow May Hail from Texas

Chicken-of-Tomorrow, a meatier bird with junior drumsticks and more white meat to delight the national palate, definitely, can be developed—and it may be Texas-bred, a Texas A. & M. poultry specialist predicted this week in a message to Hamlin area poultry growers and home of two large chick hatcheries.

His prediction was based on results of the 1947 Texas and Southwestern chicken-of-tomorrow contests held this summer at Fort Worth with Texas-bred birds winning four of the five first places in the regional competition.

"The birds entered in the state and regional contests had more white meat and were superior in every way to the average cockerels their age," declared F. Z. Beanblossom, A. & M. Extension Poultry who is chairman of both the state and regional Chicken-of-Tomorrow committees.

"The next step in the three-year nation-wide contest wil be selection by the National Comittee of the poultrymen whose chickens will compete in 1948 for $7,000 in national prizes." Beanblossom explained. "The committee is expected to make its selections in the next few months."

Since Texas entries took most of the top places in the regional contest, they will receive first priority from the national committee for selection for the finals, the Extension Poultry man explained. In order to compete in the finals, an entry must meet the rigid standards set by the committee, which is composed of poultry industry leaders, United States Department of Agriculture experts and representatives of state Agricultural Colleges and Extension Services.

Poultrymen selected for the finals will shop two cases of eggs—720—to a central hatchery somewhere in the United States. There the eggs will be hatched and the chicks raised, killed and judged under identical conditions by nationally-known experts.

How to satisfy school day appetites

By Carol Drake

BUILD A BANANA SCHOOL HOUSE atop each bowl of cereal to start breakfast right the first day of school. Cut half a peeled banana into four logs. Arrange logs in a square; fill center with berries.

SOAKED PRUNES AND CRISPLY FRIED BACON are a pleasing sandwich-filling duet. Play "Chopsticks" with the chopping knife over them. Moisten mixture with lemon juice. Best on brown bread.

THREE-IN-ONE COOKIES give everyone his favorite flavor. Make up a plain 2½-or 3-cup-flour recipe of drop cooky batter or rolled dough. Divide it into three parts. To one part, add ½ teaspoon cinnamon and allspice, and ½ cup raisins. To another, add 2 squares melted chocolate. To third, add ½ cup shredded coconut. Bake.

THIN, UNPEELED APPLE SLICES between buttered slices of raisin bread equals a sandwich Junior and Sis will be glad to whip up for themselves. Spread with brown sugar, the sandwich is in the blue-ribbon class. Try with a big bowl of bean soup.

SPREAD APPLESAUCE ON hot buttered toast; crisscross with crisp bacon for a breakfast or lunch snack that's nice to munch on.

If you are planning a farewell party for friends who are moving away to a new home, write for our free leaflet, Farewell Parties. Address your request to Carol Drake, The Homemakers' Bureau, Box 2110, Dept. F.P., San Francisco 26, California.

Deadline Nears For Entry into State Fair Shows

Farmers and ranchers of the Hamlin area who plan to enter livestock and poultry at the State Fair of Texas this year were urged today to get their entries into the Fair office as quickly as possible.

Although the State Fair doesn't open until October 4, the deadline for Junior Livestock and Livestock Show entries is Monday, September 8.

Livestock Manager Ray W. Wilson said that the large number of entries already received indicate one of the largest livestock shows ever held at the State Fair.

"Our show," Wilson said, "has expanded to such proportions that we need entries at the earliest possible date to facilitate final preparations for the State Fair."

The deadline for Palomino and Quarter Horse entries is September 15. Altogther livestock premiums this year will total $59,020, one of the largest amounts ever offered at the State Fair.

Entries in the State Fair's Poultry Show will be accepted up to Saturday, October 4, opening day of the State Fair. Hens to be entered in the Egg Laying Contest, however, must be entered by September 26. Deadline for Junior Poultry Show entries is September 30.

Maybe the Next Is Fatal.

Little Mary, aged five, came running up to her mother, crying:

"Oh, mother, dear! You'd better come quick and get daddy!"

Mother—"Why, dearie?"

Little Mary—"Well, daddy and Mr. Smith are down in the cellar and I heard Mr. Smith tell daddy to give him another shot!"

Mrs. A. L. Stell Speaks to Youth Leaders Thursday

A conference for the consellors of the young people's organizations of the First Baptist Church was held last Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Tate May. Mrs. A. L. Stell of Anson led the conference. From her varied and successful work with young people, Mrs. Stell brought many ideas, plans and suggestions to the local group.

Mrs. Stell is young people's secretary for the Jones County associational WMU.

Those attending the meeting were: Mrs. Joe Simpson, president of the Women's Missionary Society; Mrs. A. G. Irwin, and Mrs. O D. Roland, counselor and helper of the Junior Girl's Auxiliary; Mrs. Cecil Sellers, Mrs. Delma Shelburne, Mrs. Carl Young, counselor and also helpers of the Sunbeam Band; Mrs. Lott Shell and Mrs. I. R. Huchingson, counselor and helper in the Intermediate GA work; Mrs. Ted Armstrong, counselor of the Young Women's Auxiliary; and Mrs. Tate May, Young People's Secretary.

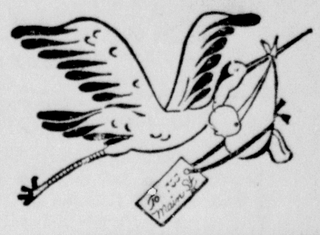

Punch, cookies and sandwiches were served from a table laid with a handmade lace cloth and centered lavendar and white, the WMU colors.

A girl attended her first ball game. After watching the entire game she met one of the players. In her sweet little way she asked:

"Why does the fellow behind the plate wear the muzzle when it's the one with the big stick in his hand that does all the growling?"

'Tween Me and my Typewriter

by Jeanelle Bryant

After spending a week-end at the bedside of a beloved five-year-old friend, who is fighting a battle for life, it is awfully difficult to sit down and write. It is wonderful to have friends who feel that even your presence is uplifting. In our fast-moving age, we sometimes lose sight of the inestimable value of friends. We get so engrossed in our own affairs that we neglect to develop friendships. But in time of trouble, we come to realize that money, sucess, fame and material gain mean nothing compared to the interest and love of a friend. Wars would cease to happen if we spent as much time making friends as we do struggling for fame and fortune.

Aren't you proud of the beautiful Banner Creamery building? It certainly is modern and adds much to this section of Central Avenue. Just another example of what "elbow grease" and paint will do if properly mixed together. That shiny black stripe on that snow-white background is indeed attractive.

We hope the absent-minded match strikers won't mar the fine paint job around the lower part of the walls. Eddie the Editor in his column, "Getting Out on a Limb" in the Post Dispatch, was lamenting the fact that the new paint job at their office was greatly marred even before the project was complete. We are sure that won't happen in Hamlin (?).

That new building going up between Stewart Furniture and Wade Implement Company will be another asset to this part of the business section. Carmichael Brothers are to be complimented for this step. Hamlin continues to grow and improve daily.

Funny, but when the sign on the door says "Push" we invariably "Pull!"

"Nice Girls Make Bad Wives" is the name of an article in a popular magazine. We were certain the title must just be an eye-opener, but, honestly, that writer believes that. Guess we are getting old and grandmish but it seems to be a person who believes that should have his head examined. Such nonsense not only encourages young men to marry the other type, but also advocates lower morals among young would-be ladies.

If you can't stand solitude, maybe you bore others, too, says Bob Gordon in the Saturday Evening Post. That's an idea, Mr. Gordon. Some of the wisest men spent the greater part of their lives alone—thinking. We can use to great advantage those hours alone, but on the other hand we can harm ourselves by being too long in solitude. "Many people live alone and like it, but many others live alone and look it."

"Nice, bright, sunshiny days we are having," we are sometimes tempted to remark just to make conversation. But the only time we tried it, we felt daggers in those glances we received. Somehow, poeple don't seem to appreciate such optimism. Such ingratitude!

It seems that reckless drivers are becoming more scarce in our city. That is due, we feel sure, to the efforts of J. H. Foster and the highway patrolmen who have been seen making several arrests of violators. More power to them! It makes no difference who the culprits are, we lived in a town once where the mayor fined his own wife for a minor traffic violation. He won the respect of the entire citizenry by being just that honest and fair. Everyone admires such a square-shooter.

Has your dog been vaccinated against rabies? If not, that matter should be attended to at once. September is one of the most dreaded months for this disease among animals. The fee involved for such a precaution is so small when you think of the risk you are running by allowing your dog to be unprotected against this terrible disease that endangers the lives of the whole town. Call your veterinarian today.

15,000 HARVESTERS READY

Fifteen thousand mechanical cotton harvesters, mostly of the stripper type shown in the picture, will help gather the 1947 crop this fall, the National Cotton Council reports. Though far from enough to help relieve the widespread farm labor shortage, their increasing number promises a day when Cotton Belt farms will equal or surpass those anywhere in the nation in production efficiency.

Get acquainted with the new people moving to Hamlin. As we have often remarked, if you have never moved to a strange place, you can't fully appreciate just how much a visit into their homes will mean to a lonely person. We are not the type to wait for visitors, but many people do, and will go away from our town with an unpleasant memory because we failed to show any interest in their happiness here. Let's be known as the friendly city.

Guess we're going to have to stay home from Sunday School and listen to Ben Huling, the suburban editor over KGKO, some Sunday so we can hear our name called and some article read from this column. We don't deny we appreciate you folks telling us about hearing it. And we try not to be egotistic either!

Tooting for the Payoff.

Two colored brothers were driving a car on a country highway, when suddenly the driver slammed on his brakes, and stopped the car while a fast train barely missed their front fenders. The other darkey said:

"Boy, why for you blow dat horn jes as dis cah stops?"

"Boy, dat wasn't mah hown—hit wuz Gabriel's," the driver replied.

TRUE STORIES of WEST TEXAS

(Copyright, N. H. Kncaid, 1947)

"A TEXAS RANGER ON DUTY"

Strains of "Old Dan Tucker" stopped abruptly and the surprised fiddlers forgot to lower their bows. Startled dancers stumbled as the men tried to swing their pardners clear while their hands sought the revolvers at their waists.

But the lone trooper in the doorway was unarmed and made no move towards self defense. In his hands was nothing but a white handkerchief.

"D'you want anyone here, Hall?" called Joe Sitterlie, one of the dancers whose wedding festivity this was.

"Yes," the red haired lieutenant answered. "I want seven men. I want you and Deputy Sheriff William Meador, David Augustine, Jacob Ryan, William Cox, Frank Heister and Charles Hessig, charged with murder of Philip Brazell and his son, George, indicted this day."

During the ensuing uproar Lee Hall was pushed with the surging crowd onto the gallery. Trigger fingers of 16 Rangers stationed strategically around the house, came into position.

"All right, men," Hall called to those troopers without shifting his gaze from the scene before him. "They're moving out women and children, then the fun begins. You with the shotguns sweep the porch; the rest shoot to kill, when I give the word."

But Deputy Meador, corrupt public official with a private grudge and now half drunk on bridal liquor, had lost his nerve. And the others were looking to his leadership. So Hall disarmed him, using both hands. As some of his men came inside to help, the remaining feudists were soon stripped and the Rangers were walking arsenals.

And thus did Lee (Red) Hall and his Rangers usher law and order into DeWitt County in December 1876. And not a shot was fired. By 1879 his company had captured 420 offenders in Southwest Texas, most of whom were murderers and had done so with practically no violence.

This Frontier Battalion of Texas Rangers, reorganized in 1874, served along the Texas border west of the Colorado. Lee Hall, gentleman from North Carolina and peace officer of Denison and Sherman, inherieted a company whose exploits had already made frontier history. He was soon made a captain and remained a Ranger throughout his life. At his death in 1911 the San Antonio Express said, "He has made more bad men lay down their guns and delivered more desperadoes into the custody of the courts, using his own gun less, than any other officer in Texas."

Fresh back from the tall pines of East Texas and Louisiana . Saw about everything a country boy could see in 10 days. Saw Shreveport Sports and Oklahoma City Indians play a jam-up ball game, score 8 to 7 in favor of the Sports, saw Shreveport from the air in a Piper Cruiser; went motor boat riding in Cross Lake near Shreveport, saw the art exhibit at Louisiana State Fair grounds, ate gobs of fresh water fish from the Louisiana lakes; picture shows galore indoors and out, visited Barksdale Field the largest air base in the world, drove over the beautiful bridges under Huey Long's administration, visited relatives and saw the high spots in Longview and Tyler, saw hundreds of colored folks picking cotton that is making three bales to the acre in river bottoms of Louisiana; stretched our necks at the tall pines and huge oaks deep in the heart of Texas and now back in the old home town ready to settle down for the season—that is, if another bug don't bite us. After all it's a small world and we like it.

General Crude Wins Softball Championship

General Crude Oilers fought their way to the top of the heap and established themselves in no uncertain terms as 1947 champions of the Hamlin Softball League at the City Park Saturday night. In a final game of the championship Saturday night, they walloped the Wise Chapel team 6 to 2, to make it four games out of six. Friday night Wise Chapel had spanked the Oilers 5 to 1 and Thursday night the Oilers goose-egged the Wise Chapel club 3 to 0.

In the first three games of the week, General Crude won 3 to 0 on Monday night and bowed to Wise Chapel 3 to 1 Tuesday night, and humiliated Wise Chapel Wednesday night 20 to 1.

Sylvester won four of five consolation games to take the consolation finals, defeating VFW 18 to 9 in the final game Friday night.

The Saturday night game marked the close of the summer softball season, and league officials termed it a very successful one, and are looking forward to an even better season next year.

Area Swelters in Temperatures of 104-106 Degrees

Hamlin area residents have roasted burned and sweltered under the intense heat being furnished by Old Sol for the past four or five days. There was no rain in sight Wednesday morning, but slight breezes promised some relief.

Readings at the Santa Fe station, which are considered very reliable, recorded 104 degrees Sunday afternoon and Monday and Tuesday topped this to reach 106 degrees for both days. Abilene reported 105 on Tuesday and Wichita Falls 107 for the hot spot of Texas. Freak event of the day's weather news was a hail and windstorm at Mineola.

Many old-time residents were practically unanimous in their belief that it was the hottest weather ever recorded locally, one long-time resident telling a Herald reporter that he had never seen it as hot in 43 years of his residence in Hamlin.

Most people have expected September to bring relief from the heat wave, but instead have witnessed new heat records for summer as well as for the month of September.

Cotton Picking Rush Expected to Start Next Week

Hamlin area farmers report that cotton is opening rapidly and that "boll snatching" will start in earnest by next week. The Herald learned Wednesday morning that up to-date 30 bales had been ginned in the two local gins. The Producers Gin the Hamlin Farmers Cooperative reported a total of eight bales and Gin had turned out 22 bales. No reports could be received from other area gins.

Most observers say that cotton has made all that it will ever make and that rain now probably wouldn't help the situation. Several farmers report they believe the crop will be considerably better than last season.

Rains now, however, would certainly be of benefit to wheat farmers, it was pointed out. Only .19 of an inch, plus a small trace, has been reported in Hamlin since June 18. Pastures and ranch lands are badly in need of rain throughout this section of West Texas.

Breckenridge Man Injured in Wreck West of Hamlin

A Breckenridge man, whose name could not be learned locally, sustained a broken arm and cuts about his body in an accident at Hitson, west of Hamlin, about 10:30 a. m. Sunday morning. His young lady companion, Bernice Trammell of Breckenridge, was not injured seriously. The car, which belonged to her father, was demolished almost beyond repair and was brought to the Carmichael Tractor Company.

The couple was said to be en route to Rotan at the time of the accident. It was reported that a car driven by John Holland, who lives northwest of Hitson, pulled out on the highway and the Trammell car failed to clear it and hit Holland's car on the front, damaging it slightly. The large car aparently went out of control, skidded sideways and turned over three times before coming to a stop in a ditch about 100 yards from the point of the crash. Holland was unhurt .

However, they are advised to come according to schedule if possible.

The grades four through eight will report to the Elementary Building and grades one through three will report to the Primary Building.

The Hamlin Schools will only operate one of its Rural Elementary Schools. Two grades, the first and the second will be taught at the Celotex School.

Students who attended a school outside Hamlin system of schools last year are requested to write to their school last attended for a transcript of their credits to be mailed to the principal. This will greatly aid in properly enrolling such students.

City Starts Daily Trash Collection Downtown Section

Daily collections of trash was started in the downtown business section of town this week by the City of Hamlin, it was announced Monday by Mayor Holly Toler. Another truck and additional help has been added to make this service possible. Pickups are made daily in the fire zone only—the section covering the two blocks on each side of Central Avenue (the main street) between Stamford-Rotan highway and the Santa Fe Railway.,

The move was made in an effort not only to keep the downtown section cleaner but also to eliminate the fire hazard created by business houses burning their own trash. The City Council and Fire Marshall F. M. Crow ask that business firms refrain from burning trash in this area at any time as it will be picked up daily. They are also asking that weeds be kept cut down and stacked in the alleys for pickup by the city crew.

Those not having containers in which to place trash and paper are asked to secure them or at least put their trash in big boxes and not let it blow around the alleys.

Cooperation of everyone in the area concerned will help the town a great deal, Toler said.

Farm Products Close Steady to Some Higher at Most Southwestern Markets

Mose southwest farm products gained strength late last week and closed steady to some higher, according to a report received by The Herald from the Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture.

All cattle classes advanced 50 cents to $1 per hundred pounds at most southwest markets last week. Choice steers at Denver reached to $32.50, a new all-time high, and the bulk of good fed kinds brought $27 to $30. Wichita paid $26 to $30 for good and choice club yearlings. Good fed steers and yearlings sold at $26.50 to $27 at Oklahoma City, $23 to $24.50 at Fort Worth. Common and medium grades turned at $17.50 to $22.50 at San Antonio, and $15 to 21 at Houston.

Late-week gains largely made up for early losses at southwest hog markets. Closing top was $26.75 at San Antonio; $27.75 at Fort Worth; $28.25 at Oklahoma City; $28 at Wichita; and $29.50 at Denver. Sows and pigs sold up to $24 and 25.

Eggs and poultry sold generally at firm prices last week, and top quality eggs strengthened at some markets. Best white eggs brought 50 to 55 cents per dozen at most places, best mixed 45 to 50 and medium grades 40 to 45. New Orleans also brought heavy hens at 29 to 32 cents per pound, and spring chickens at 39.

Rains in the corn belt checked deterioration of the crop and weakened corn prices; but other grains sold strong. Wheat, oats, barley and grain sorghums each advanced five to eight cents on southwest cash markets. Wheat futures reached to new high levels, and oats rose to a record high price at Chicago and Kansas City.

Spot cotton prices declined $3 to $7.50 at southwest markets late last week. Demand continued good for the better grades but offerings were light. Widespread rains damaged open cotton and delayed picking, but benefited young growing cotton.

Grand Jury Indicts Two Negroes Monday

Jones County grand jury of the 104th District Court which opened in Anson Monday of this week returned two bills of felony indictments ,after a one-day session and adjourned to reconvene on October 1.

An Abilene negro, Roscoe Wigfall, was charged with theft. He was alleged to have removed the inside and outside doors from a farm house in this county belonging to W. T. Carter of Abilene. The theft was said to have taken place on May 14.

Another indictment ws returned against A. B. Standifer, negro, who was charged with forgery. It was alleged that he had forged the name of A. J. Swenson, of Stamford.

New Buildings Take Shape Fast, Others Near End

Walls are going up on the three-unit Carmichael Brothers building Stewart Furniture Company and Wade Implement Company and the building is rapidly taking shape under the direction of Ward Harris, contractor. The building, to be of hollow tile and stucco construction, will be 75 feet long and divided into three seperate store buildings 25 feet wide. They are being built for rent.

The new building for Wade Implement Company, being constructed by Shelburne & Son, is going up on the Stamford highway. Also on the same street, the offices and the service entrances have been completed at the Carl Murrell Chevrolet Company and he expects to be able to open his service department soon. They plan to start construction of the front showroom soon, too.

The Dillingham Building, housing the Banner Creameries ice plant, the City offices and The Style Mart, a new firm, is very near completion. The white stuccoed building with glass brick and black marble-trim is one of the city's most striking buildings and will certainly enchange the appearance of the business district.

Work is at a stand still at the Hamlin Memorial Hospital pending arrival of certain materials needed inside. Hamlin people are anxiously awaiting final completion of this building and the acquisition of the staff members.

Typing fee—$4.50 per semester charged as a rental on machines of all students who take typing.

Science fee—A fee of $1 per year is charged of those students taking chemistry and biology.

The cafeteria at the high school will begin operation on Thursday, September 11. Efforts are being made to have all equipment installed at the elementary building in order to begin meal service by Monday, September 15.

Due to the increase in the price of food and services in the lunch and also the fact that the government lunch room aid has been reduced from nine cents to a mixi-mum of six cents an increase in the price of meals must be made. Therefore, a charge of 25 cents will be made in the grade school and 30 cents in the high school. This will be the total charge for a complete meal including dessert and milk.

The cafeterias are operated solely for the health and convenience of the students and are not profit making, but must be self supporting. If a reduction can be made at any time during the year, the reduction will be made, so stated Huchingson. The cafeteria closed out the year of operation last year with a balance of $4.74.

One new bus will be added bringing the total of buses in operation to eight. The Wise Chapel, Carlton and Neinda districts that have been served by two buses will be served by three buses. Thus effecting a shortening of the two former routes. Other routes will optrate along simjar routes to those of last year. Students are advised to be ready early and watch for the buses for the first day or two until the routes and time schedule have settled into a definite route. Buses will be operated along the designated county roads and will make every reasonable effort to render service to the convience of the greatest number of students. Buses should not be expected to make side trips for individual students where those students live within a mile of the designated route.

Electric Motor in Refrigertor Needs To Rest One-Third

Each of the estimated 600 mechanical refrigerators in operation over the county needs a rest, too, and should not run more than eight hours out of 24, Miss Loretta Allen, county home demonstration agent, advises.

If the motor of a mechanical refrigerator runs more than one-third of the time the temperature may be set too low, or the refrigerator door may not close tightly so that warm air may be leaking into the cabinet.

Miss Allen declares 40 degrees Fahrenheit is normal except for the freezing cabinet. The only time the temperature needs to be set below this is when desserts or other foods are being frozen. After this quick-freezing, the temperature control should be returned to normal to keep the motor from overworking.

Test for leaks by closing the door on a piece of ordinary wrapping paper about the size and thickness of a dollar bill is handy If the paper pulls out easily the gasket is not tight enough to keep warm air from passing into the refrigerator, Miss Allen states.

The county home demonstration agent points out that paper pulling out easily may be because the rubber in the door gasket has become hard and brittle. Or it may be the fault of the door. Try tightening hinges or latch to make the door to fit more snugly. Test again with the paper. If the door still is not tight, get a new gasket.

Should the temperature be normal and the mechanical refrigerator door does not leak, but the refrigerator still runs too much, call in a service man.

BOYCE HOUSE "Gives You Texas"

When I was a little boy, I visited Hot Springs, Arkansas, with my parents and my most vivid recollection was a visit to Happy Hollow. As the name suggests, it was wooded spot at the foot of mountains and there were burros that a boy could ride. In Happy Hollow, we chanced to meet a lady and her little son from our home town; he was my chum. He and I took a ride on burros an had our picture taken together.

Not long after that Stewart was drowned and his mother asked my mother for the picture, and of course the request was granted.

Recently while in Hot Springs I asked, not very hopefully, if Happy Hollow was still there—and was surprised when told that after more than 40 years, it still was. So Col. Tom Boles, superintendant of the Hot Springs National Park, drove by there—and the memories come thronging back. The spot was little changed except there were ponies now and a surrey for hire, "with a fringe on top."

Col. Boles for years was in charge of Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico and there he met many Texans, so he is always especially glad to meet folks from this state. In every crowd that went through the cavern, there were always more from Texas than any other state and so when he called the roll of states, giving the number of visitors from each one, he would skip Texas on purpose and call it last.

The colonel took us—my wife, her mother and me—for a daylight drive up the winding roads that climb the two big mountains overlooking Hot Springs—a scenic experience. We also took the same drive but at night with Carl Crow, business man, and as you looked down on the lofty towers of the Arlington far below and the innumerable lights of many colors, blinking and twinkling like stars and then looked up at the real stars while the wind whispered thru the pines and their aromatic odor drifted to your nostrils—brother, that's something to remember!

The vowel "e" is used most in the English language.

Hunters Urged to Use Care Shooting At 'Phone Lines

With 2,500 teleephone wires shot out of commission last year, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company this week urged hunters of the Hamlin area to use care in shooting at or near its pole lines in the coming hunting season.

About one-third of all cases of trouble on open wire long distance telephone lines last year was traced to gunshot damage, R. B. Peterson, telephone company manager, said.

"Even good shots miss occasionally," Peterson said, "and a shot at a bird on a telephone line, or flying in front of it, may cut a wire and interrupt telephone service between towns until we can get men out to the scene to repair it. Some important messages could be delayed.

Admitting that it might take a lot of will power to pass up a "fat" shot Peterson said, "care and thoughtfulness on the part of hunters now will go a long way toward protecting the community's vital telephone service."

Uncle Sam Says

"What's in it for me?" Any time you buy something or invest money in something you should ask this question and get a gilt-edge answer. Supposing a U. S. Savings Bond could talk—it would say: "Here's what's in it for you. When you exchange your money for me you get for yourself these things: future security, safety of your investment, profit ($4 for $3 in 10 years), the means to take advantage of opportunities, a nestegg to handle any emergencies." *U. How to satisfy school day appetites

By Carol Drake

BUILD A BANANA SCHOOL HOUSE atop each bowl of cereal to start breakfast right the first day of school. Cut half a peeled banana into four logs. Arrange logs in a square; fill center with berries.

SOAKED PRUNES AND CRISPLY FRIED BACON are a pleasing sandwich-filling duet. Play "Chopsticks" with the chopping knife over them. Moisten mixture with lemon juice. Best on brown bread.

THREE-IN-ONE COOKIES give everyone his favorite flavor. Make up a plain 2½-or 3-cup-flour recipe of drop cooky batter or rolled dough. Divide it into three parts. To one part, add ½ teaspoon cinnamon and allspice, and ½ cup raisins. To another, add 2 squares melted chocolate. To third, add ½ cup shredded coconut. Bake.

THIN, UNPEELED APPLE SLICES between buttered slices of raisin bread equals a sandwich Junior and Sis will be glad to whip up for themselves. Spread with brown sugar, the sandwich is in the blue-ribbon class. Try with a big bowl of bean soup.

SPREAD APPLESAUCE ON hot buttered toast; crisscross with crisp bacon for a breakfast or lunch snack that's nice to munch on.

If you are planning a farewell party for friends who are moving away to a new home, write for our free leaflet, Farewell Parties. Address your request to Carol Drake, The Homemakers' Bureau, Box 2110, Dept. F. P., San Francisco 26, California.

Chicken of Tomorrow May Hail from Texas

Chicken-of-Tomorrow, a meatier bird with junior drumsticks and more white meat to delight the national palate, definitely, can be developed—and it may be Texas-bred, a Texas A. & M. poultry specialist predicted this week in a message to Hamlin area poultry growers and home of two large chick hatcheries.

His prediction was based on results of the 1947 Texas and Southwestern chicken-of-tomorrow contests held this summer at Fort Worth with Texas-bred birds winning four of the five first places in the regional competition.

"The birds entered in the state and regional contests had more white meat and were superior in every way to the average cockerels their age," declared F. Z. Beanblossom, A. & M. Extension Poultry who is chairman of both the state and regional Chicken-of-Tomorrow committees.

"The next step in the three-year nation-wide contest wil be selection by the National Comittee of the poultrymen whose chickens will compete in 1948 for $7,000 in national prizes." Beanblossom explained. "The committee is expected to make its selections in the next few months."

Since Texas entries took most of the top places in the regional contest, they will receive first priority from the national committee for selection for the finals, the Extension Poultry man explained. In order to compete in the finals, an entry must meet the rigid standards set by the committee, which is composed of poultry industry leaders, United States Department of Agriculture experts and representatives of state Agricultural Colleges and Extension Services.

Poultrymen selected for the finals will shop two cases of eggs—720—to a central hatchery somewhere in the United States. There the eggs will be hatched and the chicks raised, killed and judged under identical conditions by nationally-known experts.

The City Is Now Making Daily Trash Pickups

Another truck has been added by the City of Hamlin and we are now making daily collection of trash in the fire zone only—that section of town covering the full blocks on each side of Main Street (Central Avenue) from the Stamford Highway to the Santa Fe Railroad. Every business house is asked to please discontinue the dangerous practice of burning trash and refuse of all kinds. If weeds are cut in back of stores and stacked up, they, too, will be hauled off.

Those not having containers are asked to provide them or place trash in suitable boxes.

Remember: Do Not Burn Trash—It Will Be Picked Up!

Deadline Nears For Entry into State Fair Shows

Farmers and ranchers of the Hamlin area who plan to enter livestock and poultry at the State Fair of Texas this year were urged today to get their entries into the Fair office as quickly as possible.

Although the State Fair doesn't open until October 4, the deadline for Junior Livestock and Livestock Show entries is Monday, September 8.

Livestock Manager Ray W. Wilson said that the large number of entries already received indicate one of the largest livestock shows ever held at the State Fair.

"Our show," Wilson said, "has expanded to such proportions that we need entries at the earliest possible date to facilitate final preparations for the State Fair."

The deadline for Palomino and Quarter Horse entries is September 15. Altogther livestock premiums this year will total $59,020, one of the largest amounts ever offered at the State Fair.

Entries in the State Fair's Poultry Show will be accepted up to Saturday, October 4, opening day of the State Fair. Hens to be entered in the Egg Laying Contest, however, must be entered by September 26. Deadline for Junior Poultry Show entries is September 30.

Maybe the Next Is Fatal.

Little Mary, aged five, came running up to her mother, crying:

"Oh, mother, dear! You'd better come quick and get daddy!"

Mother—"Why, dearie?"

Little Mary—"Well, daddy and Mr. Smith are down in the cellar and I heard Mr. Smith tell daddy to give him another shot!"

Mrs. A. L. Stell Speaks to Youth Leaders Thursday

A conference for the consellors of the young people's organizations of the First Baptist Church was held last Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Tate May. Mrs. A. L. Stell of Anson led the conference. From her varied and successful work with young people, Mrs. Stell brought many ideas, plans and suggestions to the local group.

Mrs. Stell is young people's secretary for the Jones County associational WMU.

Those attending the meeting were: Mrs. Joe Simpson, president of the Women's Missionary Society; Mrs. A. G. Irwin, and Mrs. O D. Roland, counselor and helper of the Junior Girl's Auxiliary; Mrs. Cecil Sellers, Mrs. Delma Shelburne, Mrs. Carl Young, counselor and also helpers of the Sunbeam Band; Mrs. Lott Shell and Mrs. I. R. Huchingson, counselor and helper in the Intermediate GA work; Mrs. Ted Armstrong, counselor of the Young Women's Auxiliary; and Mrs. Tate May, Young People's Secretary.

Punch, cookies and sandwiches were served from a table laid with a handmade lace cloth and centered lavendar and white, the WMU colors.

A girl attended her first ball game. After watching the entire game she met one of the players. In her sweet little way she asked:

"Why does the fellow behind the plate wear the muzzle when it's the one with the big stick in his hand that does all the growling?"

'Tween Me and my Typewriter

by Jeanelle Bryant

After spending a week-end at the bedside of a beloved five-year-old friend, who is fighting a battle for life, it is awfully difficult to sit down and write. It is wonderful to have friends who feel that even your presence is uplifting. In our fast-moving age, we sometimes lose sight of the inestimable value of friends. We get so engrossed in our own affairs that we neglect to develop friendships. But in time of trouble, we come to realize that money, sucess, fame and material gain mean nothing compared to the interest and love of a friend. Wars would cease to happen if we spent as much time making friends as we do struggling for fame and fortune.

Aren't you proud of the beautiful Banner Creamery building? It certainly is modern and adds much to this section of Central Avenue. Just another example of what "elbow grease" and paint will do if properly mixed together. That shiny black stripe on that snow-white background is indeed attractive.

We hope the absent-minded match strikers won't mar the fine paint job around the lower part of the walls. Eddie the Editor in his column, "Getting Out on a Limb" in the Post Dispatch, was lamenting the fact that the new paint job at their office was greatly marred even before the project was complete. We are sure that won't happen in Hamlin (?).

That new building going up between Stewart Furniture and Wade Implement Company will be another asset to this part of the business section. Carmichael Brothers are to be complimented for this step. Hamlin continues to grow and improve daily.

"Nice Girls Make Bad Wives" is the name of an article in a popular magazine. We were certain the title must just be an eye-opener, but, honestly, that writer believes that. Guess we are getting old and grandmish but it seems to be a person who believes that should have his head examined. Such nonsense not only encourages young men to marry the other type, but also advocates lower morals among young would-be ladies.

If you can't stand solitude, maybe you bore others, too, says Bob Gordon in the Saturday Evening Post. That's an idea, Mr. Gordon. Some of the wisest men spent the greater part of their lives alone—thinking. We can use to great advantage those hours alone, but on the other hand we can harm ourselves by being too long in solitude. "Many people live alone and like it, but many others live alone and look it."

"Nice, bright, sunshiny days we are having," we are sometimes tempted to remark just to make conversation. But the only time we tried it, we felt daggers in those glances we received. Somehow, people don't seem to appreciate such optimism. Such ingratitude!

It seems that reckless drivers are becoming more scarce in our city. That is due, we feel sure, to the efforts of J. H. Foster and the highway patrolmen who have been seen making several arrests of violators. More power to them! It makes no difference who the culprits are, we lived in a town once where the mayor fined his own wife for a minor traffic violation. He won the respect of the entire citizenry by being just that honest and fair. Everyone admires such a square-shooter.

Has your dog been vaccinated against rabies? If not, that matter should be attended to at once. September is one of the most dreaded months for this disease among animals. The fee involved for such a precaution is so small when you think of the risk you are running by allowing your dog to be unprotected against this terrible disease that endangers the lives of the whole town. Call your veterinarian today.

15,000 HARVESTERS READY

Fifteen thousand mechanical cotton harvesters, mostly of the stripper type shown in the picture, will help gather the 1947 crop this fall, the National Cotton Council reports. Though far from enough to help relieve the widespread farm labor shortage, their increasing number promises a day when Cotton Belt farms will equal or surpass those anywhere in the nation in production efficiency.

Get acquainted with the new people moving to Hamlin. As we have often remarked, if you have never moved to a strange place, you can't fully appreciate just how much a visit into their homes will mean to a lonely person. We are not the type to wait for visitors, but many people do, and will go away from our town with an unpleasant memory because we failed to show any interest in their happiness here. Let's be known as the friendly city.

Guess we're going to have to stay home from Sunday School and listen to Ben Huling, the suburban editor over KGKO, some Sunday so we can hear our name called and some article read from this column. We don't deny we appreciate you folks telling us about hearing it. And we try not to be egotistic either!

Tooting for the Payoff.

Two colored brothers were driving a car on a country highway, when suddenly the driver slammed on his brakes, and stopped the car while a fast train barely missed their front fenders. The other darkey said:

"Boy, why for you blow dat horn jes as dis cah stops?"

"Boy, dat wasn't mah hown—hit wuz Gabriel's," the driver replied.

Mrs. Jones—"Now, Mary, when you are serving my husband tonight, be sure not to spill anything!"

"A TEXAS RANGER ON DUTY"

Strains of "Old Dan Tucker" stopped abruptly and the surprised fiddlers forgot to lower their bows. Startled dancers stumbled as the men tried to swing their pardners clear while their hands sought the revolvers at their waists.

But the lone trooper in the doorway was unarmed and made no move towards self defense. In his hands was nothing but a white handkerchief.

"D'you want anyone here, Hall?" called Joe Sitterlie, one of the dancers whose wedding festivity this was.

"Yes," the red haired lieutenant answered. "I want seven men. I want you and Deputy Sheriff William Meador, David Augustine, Jacob Ryan, William Cox, Frank Heister and Charles Hessig, charged with murder of Philip Brazell and his son, George, indicted this day."

During the ensuing uproar Lee Hall was pushed with the surging crowd onto the gallery. Trigger fingers of 16 Rangers stationed strategically around the house, came into position.

"All right, men," Hall called to those troopers without shifting his gaze from the scene before him. "They're moving out women and children, then the fun begins. You with the shotguns sweep the porch; the rest shoot to kill, when I give the word."

But Deputy Meador, corrupt public official with a private grudge and now half drunk on bridal liquor, had lost his nerve. And the others were looking to his leadership. So Hall disarmed him, using both hands. As some of his men came inside to help, the remaining feudists were soon stripped and the Rangers were walking arsenals.

And thus did Lee (Red) Hall and his Rangers usher law and order into DeWitt County in December 1876. And not a shot was fired. By 1879 his company had captured 420 offenders in Southwest Texas, most of whom were murderers and had done so with practically no violence.

This Frontier Battalion of Texas Rangers, reorganized in 1874, served along the Texas border west of the Colorado. Lee Hall, gentleman from North Carolina and peace officer of Denison and Sherman, inherieted a company whose exploits had already made frontier history. He was soon made a captain and remained a Ranger throughout his life. At his death in 1911 the San Antonio Express said, "He has made more bad men lay down their guns and delivered more desperadoes into the custody of the courts, using his own gun less, than any other officer in Texas."

POT-SHOTS FROM McCAULLEY

By GEORGE DARDEN

Fresh back from the tall pines of East Texas and Louisiana . Saw about everything a country boy could see in 10 days. Saw Shreveport Sports and Oklahoma City Indians play a jam-up ball game, score 8 to 7 in favor of the Sports, saw Shreveport from the air in a Piper Cruiser; went motor boat riding in Cross Lake near Shreveport, saw the art exhibit at Louisiana State Fair grounds, ate gobs of fresh water fish from the Louisiana lakes; picture shows galore indoors and out, visited Barksdale Field the largest air base in the world, drove over the beautiful bridges under Huey Long's administration, visited relatives and saw the high spots in Longview and Tyler, saw hundreds of colored folks picking cotton that is making three bales to the acre in river bottoms of Louisiana; stretched our necks at the tall pines and huge oaks deep in the heart of Texas and now back in the old home town ready to settle down for the season—that is, if another bug don't bite us. After all it's a small world and we like it.

Frank Jackson is seriously ill in a hospital in Rotan. Mr. Jackson is the manager of the R. B. Spencer Lumber Company in McCaulley.

Walter Peacock is confined to the hospital in Rotan and quite ill at this writing.

Mrs. Levi McCollum is on a vacation down in Cuba, Alabama. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Josey of Sylvester.

Frank Drennon is again confined to a hospital bed in Rotan.

George Martin has returned from a visit with relatives in Fort Worth.

Roy B. Hennington has taken over as postmaster for McCaulley on August 31. Mrs Lottie Rector, retiring postmaster, will take a long deserved rest.

Miss Velma Lou Boyd, teacher in the Coleman Schools, visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Boyd, last week-end.

Sterral Allen Griffith has returned from McKinney after undergoing treatment in the veteran's hospital there.

The Methodist meeting closed a successful revival at the tabernacle last Sunday night. Rev. Armstrong of Sylvester did the preaching.

This community was shocked at the word which came last Saturday that a motorcycle-car wreck had taken the life of Barbara Lou Eivens in Fort Worth, a twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Eivens now of Fort Worth and formerly of McCaulley. Also killed in the collision was a Fort Worth boy who was riding with Miss Eivens on the motorcycle, the boy was killed instantly and Barbara Lou lived a few hours. Burial was in a Fort Worth cemetery Monday morning. Miss Eivens is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Eivens, of Fort Worth, two brothers, Ellis and Linnie W. Eivens of Fort Worth: three sisters, Mrs. Milo Gray of Sylvester, Mrs. Granville Dean of Fort Worth: and a twin sister, Nancy Sue of Fort Worth. Barbara Lou was a granddaughter of G. W. Martin of McCaulley and Mrs. A. M. Eivens also of McCaulley. Frank Martin of Hamlin is a uncle. Several McCaulley school students, classmates of Miss Eivens attended the funeral. Others attending from this community were: S. E. Miers, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Dean, G. W. Martin, also Martha and Robert Hicks.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gallaway Jr. and son from Ralls visited last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Gallaway and her parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Dick.

Mrs. J. A. Jackson of Hamlin was a visitor last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miers. At the Methodist revival the other night she also handed us her check for $5 for the Cemetery Fund.

Wouldn't be surprised if Congressman George Mahon of Colorado City doesn't run against "Pappy" O'Daniel for the senate job next year. He is mighty good timber, (meaning of course—George.)

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Abbott visited his mother in McCaulley last Friday.
